

Custom Installed

Executive Screens are carefully installed by Phantom's experienced professionals to fit custom applications inside and out. The housing, slide bar and roller tube are all fashioned from high-quality extruded aluminum, and each component is constructed to resist the elements – including solar rays.

As sturdy and versatile as they are aesthetically pleasing, the Executive Screen comes with a limited lifetime warranty and convenient maintenance guidelines for added peace of mind. Whether it's a cool breeze, privacy, or protection from the sun and insects you desire, Phantom's vision of excellence is your assurance of quality.

Designer Control Solutions

Our Executive motorized screens sleek and stylish wireless remote controls* provide simple one-touch operation for single, multiple or group screen control.

Create your ideal environment automatically with sun, wind, time of day controls, or perhaps even through your home automation system from anywhere in your residence.

*available only with Executive motorized screens.

Screening and Shading Options

Executive Screens come in a wide variety of screen materials and colors to complement any fine home including:

- Insect: Reduces up to 55% of UV rays, is recommended for large openings and to keep bugs out.
- Solar: Blocks the sun's heat and glare by up to 75% while keeping pesky insects out.
- Premium Solar: Offers substantial shading and reduces fading by blocking up to 80% of UV rays.
- Privacy: A complete block-out material that provides up to 100% blockage of UV rays. Ideal for home theatre rooms.

The Retractable Power Screen Solution

Phantom, the leading provider of retractable screens, is proud to present a new line of screening and shading solutions in one incredibly adaptable product – the Executive Screen. So versatile, it fits most standard and oversized applications. So practical, it can supply complete ventilation, shade from the sun, protection from pests, and enhanced privacy – all at the convenient touch of a button or by simply turning the manual crank.

Whether you choose to convert your garage to a workshop, shade your living room or make your lanai a more inviting extension of your home, the Executive Screen is there when you need it, and not when you don't; no other screen combines such versatility and visual appeal.
