Corporate Background:

Phantom Screens was founded on the principle that a better alternative existed to conventional door and window screens. While standard screens are functional in improving ventilation and keeping insects out, they lack style and sophistication. The founders at Phantom Screens recognized this opportunity and set out to find a better solution – a solution that has the customer’s aesthetic, lifestyle, and functional needs in mind. Since 1992, Phantom Screens has rapidly grown to become North America’s leading provider of retractable screen solutions, meeting customer demand with its innovative products.

Phantom Screens supplies retractable screens for all types of doors, windows, and oversized applications such as verandas and curtain walls. Unlike conventional insect screens, Phantom retractable screens don’t obstruct occupants’ views; they are there when needed and retract out of sight when not in use. The company has built a network of Authorized Distributors throughout North America, and is rapidly expanding in the UK, Australia, Mexico, and other international locations. These distribution partners, responsible for sales, service, installation, and market development, are a key component of Phantom’s customer focused delivery system. Today, Phantom Screens retractable solutions are available at over 1900 points of sale across North America.
