

Color Options

Exposed Components

There are three components that have color choice considerations - the slidebar, U-channel and tracks. All these components will be visible to some degree during the operation of the recessed Executive motorized screens.

The slidebar will be the most visible component, second most to the tracks. In most cases the edge of the U-channel that houses the track will be minimally exposed. If the U-channel edge and some of the side is not correctly embedded in the column structure during the framing process there could be a moderate amount of exposed surface.

All three components can be ordered in the same color or different colors depending on your project requirements. Executive screens are available in nine Signature AAMA Standard powder-coated colors and backed by our Limited Lifetime Warranty.

Custom Coatings

Executive Screens are also available in special order finishes through our Custom Coatings program. We offer 50 Premium Coatings with a wide array of finish options including Decoral powder coat simulated wood grain. Our line of simulated wood grain finishes allows you to match both color and grain of any Phantom screen to most interior and exterior wood trims. The Decoral® wood grain coating is a durable polyurethane powder coated surface combined with an innovative finishing process to give the appearance of real wood. These special order colors are based on current trends and match major door, window and paint company's most popular shades.

Phantom Screens is also able to provide all 188 RAL colors through our Luxury Coatings program, or if you have a unique color that requires precise matching we can handle any request through our Custom Match Program. Phantom Screens Custom Coatings also provide a high-grade quality finish designed to resist scratching, chipping, cracking and fading caused by UV rays.

All color options are backed by our Manufacturer's Limited Lifetime Warranty. To view color samples or to order a color brochure, please contact your local distributor at 1-888-PHANTOM (742-6866).
